Micro, Small and Medium Industries Policy-2008

1. Introduction

Tamil Nadu is one of the well-developed States in terms of industrial development. In the post liberalization era, the State has emerged as one of the front-runners in attracting large number of domestic and foreign investors. In 2006-2007, the manufacturing sector at constant prices contributed 20.23% to Tamil Nadu’s Gross State Domestic Product, while services sector contributed 59.1% of Tamil Nadu’s Gross State Domestic Product. Government with a view to stimulate further industrial development, attract investment, facilitate new manufacturing capacity and enable global manufacturing competence and competitiveness of local industry, has announced the ‘New Industrial Policy 2007’ on 5th November 2007.

Small and Medium Enterprise (SME) sector does get special attention and support all over the world, even in the developed countries. While some of the issues and problems facing the industry sector are common and have been covered in the above policy, Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) sector suffers from certain handicaps and as such would need special support. Government in the Policy Note for Small Industries Department for the year 2006-07 announced that a policy for the development of Micro and Small Enterprises in the State would be formulated in consultation with industry and in harmony with the broad objectives of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development (MSMED) Act, 2006.

Vision, Mission, Objectives and Strategies

VISION

- Enhance the competitiveness and scalable capacity of the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises sector in Tamil Nadu.
- Encourage agro based industries for increasing value addition and giving better income to the farmers.
• Target a sustained annual growth rate of over 10% for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises.

• Promote 10 lakh direct and indirect employment opportunities during the XI Plan period.

MISSION

MISSION
Our mission is to accelerate development in Tamil Nadu by maximizing investment, output, growth, employment and manufacturing competitiveness through infrastructure and human resources development in Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises sector.

• Provide incentives for adoption of low cost environment-friendly technologies.

• Mitigate incipient sickness and rehabilitation of sick Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises.

• Simplifying regulations and procedures and ensure speedier clearances by Single Window Clearance mechanism.

2. Background

Definitions of Small and Medium Enterprises (SME) vary from country to country, depending on one or more of thresholds laid down in respect of investment, employment, turnover etc. All the same, Small and Medium Enterprises have been engines of industrial growth the world over. Broadly speaking almost 90% of the manufacturing units in the world fall in this sector and support over 80% of industrial employment.

Government of India have adopted investment limit in terms of the value of plant and machinery items of an industrial unit, as the sole criterion for defining the Small Scale Industry (SSI) sector. In its pursuit to help the sector to grow further, the investment limit of the SSI sector has been raised from time to time, ranging from Rs.5 Lakhs in plant and machinery value in the year 1960 to Rs.500 Lakhs in plant and machinery value in 2006.

As a response to the long standing demand of the SSI sector and considering the emergent need to provide a legal framework to address the developmental concerns of what is globally known as “Small and Medium Enterprises” Government of India in its recent enactment of the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development (MSMED) Act, 2006, has changed the nomenclature of SSI sector into SME sector, giving due importance to the enterprise segment and at the same time bringing or merging the medium sector into its fold. Salient features of the Act are given below.

- The Act defines ‘Enterprises” instead of “Industry” to give due recognition to the Service Sector.

- Manufacturing Enterprises have been defined in terms of investment in plant and machinery (excluding land & buildings) and further classified into:-

  - Micro Manufacturing Enterprises – Investment up to Rs. 25 lakhs
  - Small Manufacturing Enterprises – Investment above Rs. 25
    lakhs and upto Rs. 5 Crores
  - Medium Manufacturing Enterprises – Investment above Rs.
    5 Crores and upto Rs. 10 Crores.

- Service Enterprises have been defined in terms of their investment in equipment (excluding land & buildings) and further classified into:-

  - Micro Service Enterprises – Investment upto Rs. 10 lakhs.
  - Small Service Enterprises - Investment above Rs. 10 lakhs
    and upto Rs. 2 Crores.
  - Medium Service Enterprises – Investment above Rs. 2 Crores
    and upto Rs. 5 Crores.

Tamil Nadu is and has been among the most industrialised States in the country with a very diversified industrial base. It is ranked among the top three states in the country in industrial output, value addition, number of factories, and total workforce in the factories. The State has a substantial share in the production of cement, sugar, textiles, leather, chemical and fertilizer, auto and light engineering etc., in the country. In the process of building the industrial capacity that is available today in the State, the role of transport, communication and other forms of industry support infrastructure like industrial estates, banking and financial services, human resources has been significant.

In the process of the above growth and maturity of industrialisation in Tamil Nadu, Micro and Small Enterprises (MSEs) have supported and have been largely supported by Medium and Large Industry. The MSE sector is a vibrant and vital sector of the State economy in terms of employment generation and share of production. The MSE sector accounts for more than 95% of all industrial units, about 40% of the output in manufacturing sector and 35% of exports. There are nearly 5.30 lakhs registered MSE/SSI units in Tamil Nadu as on 31.3.2007 providing employment to over 37 lakhs persons with a total investment of around Rs.16817 Crores. As employment generation of the sector is next only to agricultural and allied sectors, it is a powerful engine for realizing the twin objectives of ‘accelerated industrial growth’ and ‘creation of additional productive employment potential’ in rural and backward areas. There is also in Tamil Nadu, behind the scenes, a substantial unregistered sector of over 6 lakhs units which serve as a nursery for entrepreneurial talent.

3. Need for Policy for Micro, Small and Medium Industries

With the opening up of the economy and the introduction of economic reforms, the challenges faced by and opportunities to this sector have increased manifold. Reduction in trade barriers and improvement in information technology and communication now allow companies to source products and services from the cheapest and most efficient sources across the globe. The process of opening up of the economy and competition in the market has accelerated and must be taken into account when formulating new policy initiatives. The MSMEs should have the ability to respond effectively to change.

Global practices have come to the Indian market and a high level of technological sophistication is being expected of MSMEs. In this process of forced and accelerated metamorphosis, it is necessary to look at MSMEs in a disaggregated manner. Upgradation of standards is also enabling these MSMEs to export in their own right. To remain competitive MSMEs must constantly upgrade technology and make fresh investments. Government policy must facilitate a seamless movement from small to medium and large scale sectors. This process must also ensure that the employment intensity of operations, which is crucial to MSMEs, is retained.

The opening up of Indian markets to global competition implies that sub-standard products would be faced with dwindling space in the Indian market. The basic policy thrust in the MSMEs sector must, therefore, be on ‘enhancing competitiveness’ and ‘promoting job creation’. In this setting, it has become imperative for Government to create a supporting environment for the Industry and the Industrial policy needs to define the role of Government as a facilitator and a catalyst.

One has to ensure that while those sub-sectors which have the resilience and strength to cope and thrive get the encouragement to do so, others which need help to adjust to the pace of change or to even just to survive, are given the subsidies and supports needed to do so. In other words, in a country where mobility of employment is limited, where deskilling and skilling are happening at a rapid rate, a sector which employs a large workforce and manufactures a range of products ranging from pins to aircraft components, cannot be viewed from a perspective of growth which applauds only the fittest of the traditional and the brightest of the sunrise sub sectors. This is even more compelling when most developed countries are proactive in market support to MSMEs and have strong support systems in place to help technology upgradation, skill building and networking.

If increasing competitiveness and being part of a larger production chain is crucial to Small and Medium Scale sector in the State, in Micro sector, issues of marketing, technology upgradation, designing and arresting the decline in the production have become critical. MSMEs should be enabled to access the latest technology, indigenous R & D and innovation trends need to be encouraged and infrastructure improved. Government, industry, research institutions and academia interaction should be facilitated and encouraged to work in collaboration to improve industry capabilities. Firms should be able to obtain credit easily and cheaply and should invest in developing technology.

In a labour surplus economy like India, the need for policies and programmes to promote employment generation is of paramount importance. Manufacturing Sector has to carry the major burden of increasing employment opportunities in the coming decades directly or indirectly. This is particularly valid for the unemployed persons coming from rural and agricultural sectors. Growth of manufacturing sector lends greater support to Agriculture through more intensive efforts on agro-based Industries. It also creates strong multiplier effects in the services sector in areas like traditional trading, financial services, transport etc. Therefore, the overall employment effect of manufacturing would have to include the indirect generation of employment in the services sector. Besides, within the service sector those of the sub-sectors that are linked to the manufacturing directly need to be concentrated upon as they provide substantial job opportunities. It is, therefore, necessary that robust growth of the manufacturing sector is ensured for creating overall growth and employment possibilities in the economy.

Considering the fact that the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises sector accounts for the major share in number of industrial units, output in manufacturing sector and exports in the State besides being a major employment provider next only to agriculture, the need for vitalising this sector assumes greater importance. Further the Micro and Small Industries Associations in the State have been continuously pressing for a separate Policy for the development of Micro and Small Enterprises in the State. All these have warranted a separate policy for the first time, exclusively for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises sector.

While planning for growth, it is also appropriate that timely and adequate attention is also paid to the needs of Enterprises which fall sick so that resources deployed are put to productive use. To facilitate this process, the MSME Policy also incorporates in Annexure-I, a structured approach for handling these matters.

4. Policy interventions

   i. Reopen the closed enterprises within three months of sanction / take over.

   ii. Produce evidence of a suitable arrangement with the bankers in respect of repayment of outstanding dues of the taken over enterprise, and arranges to have all arrear dues to workmen, statutory authorities and Government agencies of the taken-over enterprise settled.

   iv. On application by the enterprise taking over, the SLRC may convert upto 75% of the outstanding sales tax / VAT and the interest on the same (as on the date of orders of the SLRC sanctioning the package) into a soft loan. The loan will be repayable from the start of the fourth year onwards over four years on an equated monthly instalment basis at an interest of 9%. The SLRC will not make any recommendations for rehabilitation which exceed the guidelines band indicated.

4.5. Once the SLIIC takes an acceptable decision in respect of the enterprise and the concerned bank indicates an implementation schedule, the provisional decision of the SLRC will be confirmed by issue of an order.
